Friends in Christ,

It is a glorious day in New England! The sun is shining, the sky is blue, the birds are singing... It's a great day to take a meditative stroll or lie on the lawn and ponder the mysteries of life. It never ceases to amaze me how many blessings God can pack into a single summer day!

The weather in our biblical text this week is very different. We join the disciples in the dead of night on the Sea of Galilee as their little boat is being tossed about by a storm. At first, they were merely afraid for their lives, and then, they were terrified in a whole new way when one of them spotted Jesus walking across the sea. It was life-changing moment for all of them, especially Peter! Read more about it in Matthew 14:22-33.

With you on the journey,
Meg
